Rev. Hale addresses his supporters around the world

Reverend Matt Hale, today addressed his growing mass of supporters around the world. Here is what Reverend Hale had to say from the "Supermax" prison in Florence, Colorado:

My Brothers and Sisters! I am unbeaten and unbowed as I continue to fight to return to my rightful place in the free world and as I continue to fight for our great cause for our people itself from within these walls. I will never capitulate just as I expect you to never capitulate in the struggle to preserve our White Race! The tables can and will be turned.

We can and we will regain control over our own destiny as a people. You must never forget though that victory or defeat is entirely within your hands alone, for if you do your duty to win our people to our cause, victory will certainly come whereas if you do not, it will assuredly elude us! Do not think, in other words, that saving our White Race depends on somebody else whether it be the Jews, their lackeys in government, the economy, or on any other persons or circumstances. Rather, victory depends on you and you alone! You must engage with our White masses every chance you get and persuade them that the cause of loyalty to our kind is right! Whether it be face to face, on the phone, through letters to the editors of newspapers or through any other venue, the people must be actively won to our cause because this is the only way that our victory may be obtained.

On the other hand, merely being on the computer accomplishes very little and it never will! The masses will never come to us through a computer screen. Rather, we must go to them! There is nothing about our great cause that we should be afraid to say straight to their faces for we are the ones in the right! Never in my 43 years of life has things been so ripe for us to win thousands and indeed millions of our people to the cause of Racial Loyalty but if we drop the ball, our race will no doubt continue on its present path towards destruction. It is not enough merely for us to believe in our cause; rather we must win over every White man, woman, and child as well!

Right now, for example, millions of White Americans are fed up with the illegal immigrant invasion problem. These people can easily be made to see that only our Racial Loyalty cause can solve this and every other problem. But what is being done to win the average White man and woman who is fed up about the border situation to our side? Nothing that I know of! I know that I am in prison and cannot see everything that goes on out there but merely far more can be done to rally our people in the public square!

What I do not see is our cause on my television set and that is always a failing on our end because it is absolutely imperative that it be on there and on a regular basis at that. This is because of the fact that for the White masses, if a cause is not on television, it does not exist! Recall that I myself debated our foes on a regular basis on television when I was free, bringing our cause into the living rooms of thousands and millions. I have been sad these years though that no one has apparently taken my place!

Victory, once again, is up to you. Do me proud and make it happen. We can have a new country of our own and save the race that we love!

THE FIRE STILL BURNS

Recommended Literature

1. Nature's Eternal Religion (1973) - Ben Klassen

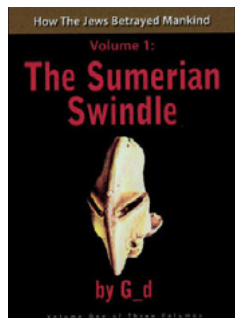

This is the only book that gives adequate answer to most crucial question - how to defeat world Jewry? In the first half Klassen gives detailed explanation of the Jewish problem and in second half provides a solution for it. He proves that Jews conquered the world with religion they wrote for their people (Judaism), and destroyed all enemies with religions they wrote for them (Christianity, Islam, communism, etc.) The only possible way for White Race to prevail against such ideological attack is to create white racial religion in opposition to Judaism. In the entire history of the White Race, Klassen with publishing this book was the first man who created such a religion.

2. White Man's Bible (1981) - Ben Klassen

Basic principles of the new white racial religion are here further developed. In this book Klassen explores more deeply issues of Judaism, differences among races, health, environmental, racial eugenics, etc. He provides a long-term plan how White Race can win this racial war and this plan is written in religious form which is not subject to change over time. Once created and adopted such racial religion begins the process of generational transmission onto its followers. Each ensuing generation that follows such religion becomes more powerful and destroys all opponents who stand in its way. Practically nothing can stop this process until goal that is religiously given is fulfilled in the end.

3. Sumerian Swindle – How the Jews Betrayed Mankind (2010)

This book reveals how Jewish plan for world conquest developed over time. Many people believe that project started with invention of racial religion, but this book proves that world conquest started thousands of years earlier with invention of usury in Sumerian civilization (around 5000 BC). Because of this revolutionary invention whole social stratification in that civilization changed. There emerged a social caste of super rich bankers who over many generations amassed huge fortunes and passed closely guarded secret of usury onto their male children. With usury they monopolized all economy, trade and knowledge of the entire ancient world. Finally these bankers even created a religion for themselves (Judaism) and thus emerged entire nation of usurers who are today known as Jews. Followers of this Judaic religion became programmed bio-robots who are religiously guided toward conquering the world, and this order is transferred by religious indoctrination to successive generations.

4. Cosmotheism (1977) - William Pierce

Pierce analyzes problem of racial survival through philosophical approach. He tries to provide an answer to two basic questions: what is the purpose of human life and what is the goal of this universe as a whole? He concludes that goal is upward evolution of living beings towards ever increasing degree of power. Milestone in the development of universe he sees in crucial moment when one race consciously embarks on the path of upward evolution. After that moment comes, in very short period of time, race makes enormous progress both in racial quality and in advancement of its civilization.

5. Might is Right (1896) - Ragnar Redbeard

Basic laws of nature are explained in this book probably better than in any other. Christianity is exposed as a slave religion that inevitably leads nations towards destruction. Myth of human equality is demolished and realistic picture of our world is given - world which is guided by doctrine that superior always rule over the inferior. The goal of life is not accumulation of "treasures" in heaven, but accumulation of power on Earth. This leads to increased chances for finding female mate and toward survival of the race. Book is incredibly powerful because it demolishes most of the myths that Jewish masters of deception preached as truth over last few millennia.

6. Antichrist (1888) - Friedrich Nietzsche

Darwin's revolutionary discovery of evolution debunked ancient myth of creation of mankind by Jewish tribal god. Discovery of evolution ideologically replaced falsely chosen Jews with the White Race which was chosen by natural selection in cold north climate. Building upon the foundations of evolution, Nietzsche created philosophical doctrine which aims toward upward evolution of man toward super-man. The main obstacle standing in opposition to this goal is Christianity, because it preaches suicidal dogmas of poverty, weakness, racial equality, etc. which leads whites toward downward evolution. With Antichrist Nietzsche demolished all these false Christian dogmas. Reversal of all Christian values toward which Nietzsche advocates was achieved only half a century later with Hitler's coming to power in Germany. (Influence of this book for success of National Socialism cannot be underestimated)

The Anti-Christ

Friedrich Nietzsche

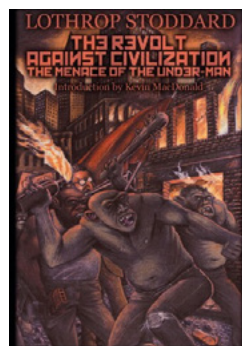

7. White Power (1967) - George Lincoln Rockwell

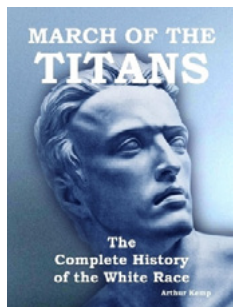

Here the emphasis is placed on the question of race. Rockwell provides history of Jewish war against the White Race and especially their use of communism and colored races as two weapons in this war. He explains Jewish policy of systematic breeding of blacks in the United States at the expense of white taxpayers. Jews then indoctrinate blacks with ideology of communism in order to use them for extermination of whites. Culmination of this process is given in the chapter "Nightmare" in which he gives terrifying vision of how future race war in America will look like. Author thinks that only solution is ideological abandonment of Christianity and conversion of whites to National Socialism.

8. The Revolt against Civilization (1922) - Lothrop Stoddard

This book answers the crucial question: why every race in history degenerates over time and why every civilization that ever existed eventually collapsed? Answer lies in the fact that in framework of civilization, effect of natural selection is reversed. Lower classes of society survive on welfare that is given to them by the superior upper classes. Those that are intelligent and hard working have very little or no children, while lower classes have many children. This process from generation to generation inevitably leads to lowering of average quality of race, which eventually causes the collapse of civilization, even when civilization is 100% white. The only solution for this is creation of racial religion which must assign to its adherents moral responsibility to enact positive eugenic laws on state level, which would lead race toward path of upward evolution.

9. March of the Titans (1999) - Arthur Kemp

In school we learn that the Egyptians and Sumerians were black, however this book reveals that all ancient civilizations were created by whites. But these white peoples were slowly mixed with colored races since they were attracted by huge economic prosperity of white civilizations, or were imported as slaves (very often at the hands of the Jews). Thus all our civilizations throughout history failed due to not having a racial religion that would prevent racial mixing and that would ensure upward evolution. This book reveals entire history of the White Race from its beginnings to the present time.

10. Mein Kampf (1926) - Adolf Hitler

Hitler vividly describes devastating effect of the Jews in Germany and his fight to remove them from positions of influence and power. He points out racial differences and the necessity of every race to preserve its territory and blood clean from the influence of foreigners. He gives realistic analysis of Jewish communism as an ideological weapon created for destruction of Europe. In short, Hitler with this book lays the groundwork of National Socialist revolution, which for the first time in white history managed to create a state based on foundation of race. Germany by following Hitler came very close to victory over world Jewry. If they only succeeded in this fight, Mein Kampf would replace the Jewish Bible as main ideological foundation from which would sprang completely new white civilization.

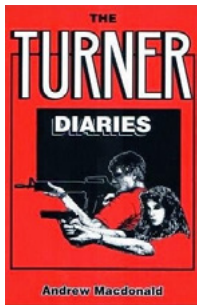

11. Collection of Works – David Lane

Christianity is here revealed as Jewish swindle for destruction of our race. David Lane thinks that solution to mobilizing White Race lies in creating a modernized racial version of Wotanism. He understands that our ancient religion is not strong enough to combat Judaism, so he fortifies it with 88 additional doctrines for white racial survival. Those can be summed up into 14 words: "We must secure the existence of our people and a future for White children". Excellent book and he also provides one very inspirational story how future war against world Jewry will look like.

12. My Awakening (1998) - David Duke

Duke describes evolutionary differences between races and Jewish activity throughout history. Particularly fascinating is one chapter where he travels to India. There in ancient Aryan temple he sees racially mixed brown girl who is begging for food. In this moment of contrast between beauty of the ancient white Aryan temple and current miserable reality of India, he realizes how low White Race has fallen in India. This same tragic outcome awaits Europe and America if they continue with suicidal policy of racial mixing. The chapter on India is so brilliantly written, that you will remember it for the rest of your life.

13. Turner Diaries (1978) - William Pierce

In the end, we would recommend this book which raises morale and provides hope that this race war will eventually be won. Turner Diaries tells the story of a small group of racially conscious whites in the United States, who begin with small guerrilla warfare against ZOG. They start with very limited actions, which over time escalate exponentially to the point of worldwide racial war against world Jewry. Special inspiration is given in final chapters where whites punish all racial traitors (Day of the Rope), and main protagonist by his own sacrifice is given final chance to secure total victory for the White Race.

Overcoming Apathy and Fear

Based on the personal experiences I've gained from interacting with most average uniformed Whites (most notably when dealing with my fellow peers of the Murray Rothstein MTV generation), I have come to realize that they are often apathetic to our message because they have difficulty understanding how it relates to them in their personal daily lives. Unfortunately a large portion of our racial comrades are radical individualists who are selfish and only concerned with themselves. They are indifferent to any social/political/religious matters that they feel have no significant bearing or direct impact on their daily existence. These are complicated, tedious affairs and are completely irrelevant as far as they are concerned. In other words it appears as if they are incapable of thinking from a collectivist perspective. They fail to see the bigger picture. Instead of contently viewing themselves as a small, but important, component (themselves as one individual) working in accordance with other small components (other individuals) to form a larger machine (society), they see themselves as unique individuals who strive to be what they like to call a "non-conformist". These same Whites are explicitly discouraged from thinking in terms of their own ethnic interests, which directly relate to their specific racial identity. Any form of White identity is considered taboo in today's social environment and is a felonious fist degree thought crime against the dogmatic moral zeitgeist. Political/religious organizations that our hook-nosed overlords have deemed guilty of upholding and practicing a form of what they classify as "extremist, right-wing" ideology are off limits. We know there is nothing extreme about our beliefs. We think and act in accordance with Natural Law. It is the Jews who are guilty of ideological extremism. Nevertheless these Jewish trigger words continue to stupefy the easily-impressed masses of subservient goyim.

Some Whites may wholeheartedly agree with our message but fail to react out of fear of persecution. While they may be not like what's happening in the country, most are just too satisfied and content with their own personal lives to lift a finger. They are financially stable and preoccupied by their lavish material possessions that offer them comfort, security, and a respectable social status. Then there are those lucky ones who have managed to temporarily escape the disastrous effects of the MultiCult. They don't give a damn if the border is being overrun by hordes of savage squaw invaders, so long as they are safe and sound in their own gated communities. I mean why should they care? It's not like they have to experience firsthand the wondrous joys of mestizo cultural enrichment. They couldn't be any less concerned about the dangerous non-White environment that lower and middle class White children are subjected to in the public educational system, so long as their little Johnny or little Suzy gets to attend private school. Why should they give a rat's ass about the violent black-on-White robberies, assaults, rapes and murders occurring across all the major cities of the US when their neighborhood has virtually no crime rate? Heaven forbid, if anything like that were to ever occur in their community, why they could just simply flee and relocate their family to another White suburban refugee reservation.

Unfortunately we may not be able to get through to these types of people. They may not realize the gravity of the situation and the validity of our message until they themselves eventually experience firsthand the costs and suffering that accompanies jewish multiculturalism. Be it in the form of the tragic loss of a loved one who falls victim to a lead bullet fired from the barrel of a handgun controlled by some impulsive, low-IQ, feral nigger gangbanger, or be it something as simple as depleted property value thanks to federal HUD housing regulations that implant third-world muds into White communities in the name of diversity, equality, and fairness, or the loss of an employment opportunity, promotion, or when their child is denied acceptance into a particular university due to affirmative-black'shun.

While many may have to learn the hard way, we mustn't get discouraged. There are still plenty of Whites out there who are open and receptive to our message, some of whom may have even had that eye-opening epiphany and are searching for answers along with a constructive outlet to positively channel their frustrations. Perhaps they are disenfranchised members of the White working class who have finally come to realize that they have been misled and lied to and have become disillusioned with the entire jew-rigged democratic political process and the false sense of hope promised to them by the kosher conservatives that comprise the treasonous Republican party.

One thing is for certain, this unnatural jewish system is not sustainable. It is destined for collapse, as was the case in the Soviet Union. And this cataclysmic collapse could very well provide that necessary spark needed to ignite a wholesale White revolution of values.

IMPERIVM

Because when people lose their jobs along with the sense of financial economic security and are no longer able to provide for themselves and their families, they become angry. And when they become angry, they search for answers. They want to know who's responsible for their suffering. And when the truth becomes obvious they demand justice and they demand change. For a prime example, one need look no farther than the current situation in Europe, and specifically in Greece. Nationalist parties like Golden Dawn have witnessed an explosion in membership and popularity. The same scenario occurred in Germany and resulted in the glorious, yet temporary, Third Reich. We as Creators should take note, because it has happened before, and it will most assuredly happen again. And there is much to learn from the well-intentioned mistakes of our ancestors.

Speaking of historical mistakes, there has been one major mistake that many within this movement seem to have not yet come to terms with. I'm referring to the ultimate mistake in which Whites have continuously embraced a poisonous, alien religion. There are many groups who promote Christianity as a solution to our current problems. Christianity offers no solutions. Christianity is the root cause of our problems. We as a race need to adopt a new religious strategy. A logical strategy with a foundational creed designed to assure not only our continued racial survival, but also our territorial expansion and genetic advancement. We Creators have already discovered that religious solution. It is now our sacred duty to inform and proselytize our racial comrades. We must be the messengers of truth, devoted missionaries, determined to spread the good word of Creativity, the one and only creed capable of ensuring a Whiter and Brighter World.

Rahowa!

Rev. Kyle Marquardt

1.) Greetings! I want to thank you in advance on behalf of our readers for accepting our interview request. Probably the most important topic of this discussion, when we are talking about RSA, is black on white violence which is widespread in your country and even condoned and encouraged by the government but can you give us some more detailed statistics here about the situation there? We've seen countless gross pictures of murdered white people in South Africa, especially white farmers, slaughtered by the hands of black savages, and in many cases without any sign of robbery, but pure hate crimes. According to you experience and statistics, is intensity of such murders still growing or was the climax in the years after the fall of apartheid?

The black on white violence has not stopped and is ongoing. Farm murders in particular are always violent and perpetrators torture their victims. It is reported that the reason for the horrific murders of farmers is to place fear into them and in turn aggravate them into selling their land for almost next to nothing. This way, farmers live a fearful life, and in order to secure, their families sell their land for a pittance. While other farmers are hell bent on not submitting to the scares, they enforce their security to protect their families and land.

2.) We know that Afrikaner community many times demanded formation of so called 'Volkstaat', separate state for whites in South Africa. What are the chances for something like that to happen considering the overall situation in your country?

Yes, it is true, the Afrikaner does want a separate state but the ANC government does not consider this as an option. The far right Afrikaner is committed to keeping their culture alive and will not endure the endless torture.

3.) South Africa used to be the richest country in whole Africa and one of the richest in the world. After ANC came to power the whole system gradually collapsed, as well as economically and politically. Today RSA is hit hard with poverty, which includes whites there also. What is the economic situation of whites in South Africa?

Used to be is correct, the corruption and theft is blatant and does not stop. The self enrichment of government and public sectors continue. The Broad Based Economic laws and affirmative action ensures that white people have little opportunity to remain in work or provide for their families. These laws have cast the white people into homeless situations.

4.) I would also like to ask you about situation in other African countries that have or used to have certain white population, mostly farmers. Primarily I mean ex Rhodesia (now it's called Zimbabwe). We know that Robert Mugabe killed many of them and stole their land. Recently I've read that Zimbabwe, which once was feeding whole Africa with it's wheat, is on the edge of starvation, today when blacks are running those farms. Most of the whites fled to other countries. What is the situation with white farmers in other African countries?

Yes, Zimbabwe, has little left and the majority of whites have left or have been killed. Once a flourishing country now in total ruins. It is reported that South Africa have over ten million Zimbabweans. White farmers experience problems but there is a rumor that in the DRC the white farming community is thriving as black governments realized they need FARMERS to sustain the food production needed.

5.) What can you tell us about your own situation, I've read you are probably facing jail time because of your activism, could you tell us something about that?

My situation is tense and the upcoming court case is frightening considering the failure of the justice system within South Africa. I am cast as a terrorist and that stigma will not make my plea of innocence easy. There is a lot of stories circulating that I am guilty when all the time I have tried to prove my innocence and prove that I was framed for a crime I did not commit. I have gained decent legal representation for the pending court case and remain positive that the truth will set me free.

6.) Also, can you tell us what is the situation in South African prisons, since I've also read some of your testimonials that speak about rather harsh conditions there?

The situation in South African prisons is horrific. There is more crime inside the prison walls than outside. Prisoners are treated with disgust by wardens and especially white prisoners. Prison is a place for rehabilitation of crime and this is not done. The conditions are unbearable for even black prisoners. Overcrowding, cold, dirty and disgusting conditions does not make it easy for people to survive. Many prisoners pay for protection from rape and other irritations. I can tell you about my horrible experience in South African jail. I was arrested on high treason and terrorism, when I was in custody one night in the police cell, they book me for the night. Around 03:00am the cell door opened and there were standing two black policemen on the door. I was sitting in the corner of the cell, they walked in and told me to stand up. I stood up and the one grabbed me from behind and said 'you better keep quite', the other one made my bottom of my jeans loose. They pushed me down to the floor, the one holding my hands the other one lifted my jersey up and took my pants of. He raped me, it hurt so much but he didn't stop. I prayed and asked god to take my life. After he was finished they changed, now the other one was raping me, I was crying, he said to me 'you white bitch keep quite'. It took maybe an hour, the rape, after they finished they smiled and said it was good to 'fuck a white bitch'. The one said 'keep quite you will get hurt if you tell anyone'. Laughing, they walked out. I was laying there and cried and asking god why? Later I stood up and got dressed. There was no water to wash myself. The next morning the two cops came back and gave me another warning, it was a hell to spend that night in jail.

7.) Despite all these murders and total violation of civil rights of white people in South Africa, there are still many whites over there that think whites and blacks could live together. How is that possible?

Yes, the crime and murders does not stop and there are the ever optimistic white people who try to maintain a decent relationship with the rainbow nation. The inequality has increased and South Africa is known to be the most divided nation. As the years pass by, 20 years after giving control to a black government, the racial hatred has increased.

8.) How do you also comment the fact that there is almost absolute silence in foreign media about all the black on white crime that is happening in your country on a large scale. Even though we are aware that the media are in hands of Jews whose goal is destruction of the white race, we would still expect certain amount of reports of those crimes.

The world does not get to hear all the stories simply because of media control. Certain crimes are reported locally and censored. It is the ordinary people of South Africa that make their voice known by resorting to blogging, or contacting overseas media to print their story. It was not too long ago, that the governing party the ANC sold almost 40 percent of the news media to a Chinese company. China a socialist company now has a major share and we all know how communist control the media.

The last part was wrote by my friend Laura Oneale.

"What could possibly go wrong, for Cornelia, her world collapsed with the invasion of police officers searching her premises and arresting her for the possession explosives and ammunition? Thrown into the back of a police van, her worst nightmare just begun. No sympathy, no friendly face and no help at all. Locked in a cell with hardened criminals, Cornelia was in shock wondering if this was a nightmare, but alas no, the cold dimly lit cell housed some disagreeable looking people who kept their eyes firmly fixed on the new white woman.

Appearing in court the next morning a little glimmer of hope stemmed within her torn heart. With enthusiasm, she cooperated with the police and legal authorities in the hope of securing a release and putting the ordeal behind her. It was not to be, she was formally charged and sent to prison with the court hearing been postponed.

Cornelia spent two years in prison waiting for her case to return to court. Unable to afford a legal representative, the state gave her representation. This did not help and she remained behind bars, isolated from the world, her children and family. During the imprisonment term, Cornelia was subject to brutal treatment and the trauma of dealing with the confines of the prison did not bode well. The unexpected torment and planned rape by black police officials was devastation that still causes her to tremble at the thought of a devious plan by authorities. Cornelia did not have an easy life in prison, being white and charged with illegal arms and explosives, the prison officials treated her with disrespect, and after all, she was a threat to their democratic government.

Finally, she was granted bail and released from the prison hellhole. Reunited with her children and family, Cornelia tried to find comfort in them. Her whole world was changed, her views on safety and care for her children kept her focused. Dealing with the betrayal of her white counterparts and being the victim of a black rape ordeal was trying and often caused her to slip into severe depression. Desperately in need of trauma counseling and in search of the truth, Cornelia began to rebuild her life and took on the responsibility of clearing her name of any wrongdoing.

As a soldier armed for battle, she ventured to get the evidence needed and in doing so, found further repression from her white counterparts. Locking her and her children into their house and setting it alight in order to prevent her talking was one of the actions deemed for her. A guardian angel had other plans for brave Cornelia and spared her life. After exposing the names of some informants, Cornelia remains a brave and yet weak woman knowing the difficulty is not over. Her court appearance is postponed to June this year, and the determination to tell the truth and expose the criminal elements of the underworld remains a difficult task to accomplish. Seeking local and international support, Cornelia, a political prisoner has told her story in the quest to get the truth to be heard.

The world can look upon Cornelia and the difficulty of trying to stay alive in the confines of prison hell. In a country where racial hatred and injustices run deep, the brave Cornelia gains little support and continue to receive death threats, abuse and torment because of her blinded kindness. The perpetrators continue to deny planting weapons on her farm inciting Cornelia as the criminally minded member of wanting to kill black people from pure hatred. The organization has a strong support structure leading to government officials who will rather risk the life of one woman than own up to the truth that they are shallow underhanded demons utilizing companies as fronts to secure a dominant position in the political structure of South Africa.

Cornelia De Wet a South African political prisoner awaits the outcome of her trial next month in anticipation of being found not guilty. The expectation of a fair trial for Cornelia is not without unwarranted concern, especially as the justice system displays a failing structure within South Africa.

About Prisons

South African prisons are appallingly overcrowded, and text messages from inmates from Leeuhoof Prison during June 2014 claimed that a cell usually allowed 30 people to stay but warders forced up to 80 people into a single cell. Often prisoners had to sleep on the floor, share two toilets, showers and basins. Bathing is problematic as the water is turned off randomly, and queuing is another problem. Some cells have no water, and trashcans are filled with water from fire hoses for cellmates to use and bath in. Toilets are often not flushed due to water shortages, and prisoners are forced to live within the stench and filth.

Money is the ruler inside the prison and can be used to smuggle in any drugs into the cells. The guards are often bribed to bring phones, drugs, and other commodities into the cells and inmates claim more drugs are available inside than on the outside. Money will buy protection from gang related rapes that is a damaging problem often occurring. Guards all for a price arrange rapes of young prisoners. Two guards will stand outside a cell door while up to eight people rape the victim and condoms are an absolute necessity in prison. Gang leaders have the option of buying a juvenile prisoner by negotiating with warders who will be transfer the selected person to his cell and where he will be used as a sex slave until he is discarded or sold to another prisoner. First time rape victims often are exposed to repeated rape abuse.

Text messages also state that Leeuhof prison is worse than hell. Stabbings, fighting, drugs and corruption are a daily occurrence and inmates are intent on exposing the elements of the crime within the South African prisons. Drug abuse inside prison is dangerously ignored while bribery is ultimately the force behind rising exploitation.

Cornelia De Wet, South African political prisoner, spent 21 months in prison before her bail application was approved. In Middleburg prison, De Wet said drugs were accessible and available at all times and kitchen staff together with guards would deliver when requested by inmates, all for monetary exchange. The food according to De wet was often appalling and not fit for human consumption. Flies and mouse droppings were visible on food servings, and bread was often moldy, and if prisoners refused to eat, they would be locked up for the rest of the day. Others were given permission to bath if they consumed the unhygienic food. With the money, inmates could get decent food cooked by government kitchen staff on the prison facilities.

De Wet was transferred to three different prisons during her 21-month term and in Bethel Prison, she was the only white woman locked away with 28 blacks. Germ infested cells with Cockroaches, bugs, mites, flies and lice filled the overcrowded cell causing more irritations than the guards on duty do. On January 28, 2013, De Wet appeared in court for a bailing hearing and was attacked by the police and taken back to the prison where she managed to take an overdose of pills. De Wet was admitted to the Intensive Care Unit at the Witbank hospital, apparently after four days in a coma, woke up handcuffed to the bed and undressed. When she asked for her clothing, she was refused and had to endure the humiliation of lying naked in front of prison guards. During February, De Wet had both feet and hands handcuffed in chains, and transferred to a prison in Pretoria where she spent her days in solitary confinement. Engaging in a hunger strike De Wet was transferred back to Middleburg Prison. De Wet describes the prison as a polluted, unsanitary and disgusting confinement where inmates openly engage in sexual activities, use drugs and disrespect everybody. Prison warders explicitly do not discourage the typical abuse among inmates and intimidation is often the ruling factor.

Part of this is from the article published in the GLV

Best Regards, Laura Oneale"

Both Healthy, Normal Emotions. There is no subject about which more hypocrisy is displayed than the subject of hate. We CREATORS take the position that love and hate go together as two sides of the same coin, and that every normal person in order to function properly and realistically meet life's problems must have the capability to feel and exercise both emotions. We believe that to suppress the emotion of hate towards your enemies is as abnormal as to be unable to love your wife, your children, your race and those near and dear to you. Every normal person loves and hates, and anyone devoid of either emotion is mentally sick.

Christian Hypocrisy Extreme. In no group is this hypocrisy more evident than in the Christian teaching, and in no teaching are these two basic emotions more perverted than in Christianity. Whereas Christianity puts on a great charade of love, that it is a religion of love, a religion of tolerance, we find in its teachings and its practice something else again.

Christianity Brutal to its Enemies. Probably in no religion was the demented obsession to persecute, torture and destroy those who would not knuckle under more fanatic than in the history of the Christian religion in its ruthless warfare to convert, subjugate and/or stamp out any and all remnants and vestiges of all other religions. We have already enlarged upon this in our chapter "Thumbscrew and Rack."

Constantine Arch Example. Christianity received its biggest boost when in the fourth century A.D. the Roman Emperor Constantine embraced Christianity. He was a strange and most cruel man. By any standard, he was an insane criminal. In order to become Emperor he murdered his rivals, since he himself had no legitimate claim to the throne. After he became Emperor, he murdered thousands more in cold blood, including his wife and his own son.

Intrusion of Oriental Religions. By the time Constantine became Emperor in 313 A.D., the Roman Empire was a multi-racial, polyglot empire, embracing many peoples and many religions. One of the outstanding original characteristics of the Roman Empire had been its genius for organization and its ability to assimilate a multitude of different cultures, races and religions. Whereas it imposed its Roman law up to a point, it was extremely tolerant in allowing the conquered peoples to retain their customs and practice their own religions. Rome itself was infested with a wide variety of religions. Its own set of state gods and goddesses Jupiter, Mars, Venus, Neptune were actually adaptations from the Greeks. By the time of Constantine these gods were becoming somewhat jaded, and many mystic Oriental religions were beginning to make serious inroads.

Christians Defied Authority. Two of such Oriental rivals were Mithraism and Christianity, with Mithraism leading, especially among the soldiers. As we stated before, the Romans for centuries had been extremely tolerant toward all religions. There is no truth that Christians were sought out and persecuted by the authorities for practicing their religion. It was only when they violated the state law that they were prosecuted for breaking the law, just as any other criminal. It was their constant defiance of authority that brought Christians into conflict with authorities, not their religion. Even this was highly exaggerated by later Christians who ultimately became the sole renderers of history by having exterminated their rivals.

Christianity Ruthlessly Destroyed its Rivals. Suffice it to say that when Constantine officially adopted Christianity, this cruel, murderous tyrant made Christianity the sole state religion to the exclusion of all others. When Christianity got the upper hand with the support of the military power of the Emperor to back it up, it immediately showed its ugly claws. No longer was love and tolerance the practice. It immediately set out to destroy and stamp out any and all rivals with treacherous cruelty and iron determination.

Branded Honest Differences as Heretics. This intolerance, cruelty and determination to stamp out its rivals lasted for the next 1500 years and is still practised in some of the backward countries where Catholicism has exclusive domain. During the Middle Ages, better described as the Dark Ages, when Christian fanaticism ran rampant, not only did the Church persecute unto death any rival religion, but it cruelly ferreted out its own members for burning and torture, should anyone deviate in the slightest from the official line. So severe was the suppression of free thought and speech, that during the Inquisition, which lasted many centuries, hundreds of thousands were burnt at the stake. Many millions more were tortured by thumb-screw and rack, or left to rot and die in filthy prisons. Their crime? They were "heretics," believing in Christianity, but disagreeing with the church authorities on some minor hair-splitting issue.

Christians Fanatic in their Hate. So much for Christian "love" and "tolerance." I believe we have shown that of all religions, none was more fanatic in its hate than Christians, excepting the Jews, Christianity's inventors. We have already examined their revolting means of torture more fully in a previous chapter. We have made it clear that contrary their hypocritical claims, Christians and Christianity itself practised hatred, torture and intolerance, not only on their enemies, but also on their own members. In this chapter we want to make overwhelmingly clear the basic differences in the attitudes towards love and hate between Christianity and The Creativity Movement.

We only Hate our Enemies. That basic difference is this: Christianity tells you to hate those who are near and dear to you, and to love your enemies. CREATIVITY says just the opposite: "hate your enemies and love and protect those that are near and dear to you ó your family, your friends, your own race. CREATIVITY also teaches to love yourself. You cannot love others if you yourself feel unworthy and unimportant. We believe our teaching of loving your own kind and hating your enemies makes a hell of a lot more sense than loving your enemies and hating yourself and your own kind. Christians told to Hate their Friends. In Luke 14:26 Christ purportedly gave this insane and hateful advice: "If any man come to me and hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren and sister, yea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple." Can you think of anything more idiotic? Anything more hateful? Yet in Matthew 5:44 he admonishes "But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you and pray for them that spitefully use you and persecute you." How stupid can you get? We CREATORS reject in toto such insane and suicidal advice and are determined to teach just the opposite.

Great Energizers. In combination, love and hate are the greatest energizers in the world. It is like the dynamics of an electric motor where you have two opposite magnetic polarities required, (namely, the North and South poles) which in combination create a push-pull effect. It is this attraction and repulsion of the two polarities that make the motor spin and produce power. So it is with love and hate. You can't hate something unless it is a threat to something you love, and you can't protect that something you love unless you are aroused to hate and anger towards that threat. How many times in your own life were things simply at a standstill, and it wasn't until you got "mad" (at yourself, or others) that the fur began to fly and things finally got done? Practically every important movement in history was engendered by the Love-Hate, Push-Pull Dynamics of Human Nature. To quote a few: the American Revolution ó hate for the British, love for America; Hitler's National Socialist movement ó hate for the Jews and traitors, love for the German people, and the most durable of all ó the Judaic religion ó hate for all Gentiles, loyalty to the Jewish race.

Love Your Own Kind. The White Race, too, must develop those characteristics that are already imbedded in its healthy instincts for survival ó love for its own great people, and hate for its enemies, the mud people. Until and unless we harness this gigantic energy for our own best interests we will never extricate ourselves from the Jewish stranglehold in which we now shamefully find ourselves.

Protect Your Own, Destroy Your Enemies. In summary, we CREATORS believe in following the Laws of Nature as are manifested in our good healthy instincts: to love our own kind, protect them from our enemies. In short, to promote the survival, expansion and advancement of the White Race. Secondly, to hate and destroy our enemies in order that they will not overrun and destroy us. We believe the idea of loving your enemies as set forth in the Sermon on the Mount is one of the most dangerous and suicidal ideas ever uttered in speech or writing. It is utterly insane. To rob the White Man of his ability to hate his enemies is as deadly as giving him poison. It is as suicidal as de-toothing and de-clawing a tiger, then throwing him back in the jungle to fend for himself. Defenseless, such a tiger would soon die.

Expunge Suicidal Ideas. Similarly, encumbered with such a suicidal idea as loving your enemies, the White Man is at a terrible disadvantage in a hostile world of mud races who now outnumber him twelve to one, and are rapidly increasing their advantage. We must always remember that such suicidal advice was given us by our treacherous enemies, the Jews, in order to destroy us.

Summary. We go back to the basic Laws of Nature: Take Care of Your Own, Love your Own. Hate your Enemies, Destroy your Enemies. The Law of Survival of your own kind is the Highest Law of Nature and Transcends All Others. Let us never forget this.
